4 Methodology

The exchange employed non-formal education methods throughout, in line with Erasmus+ quality standards:

- Experiential learning — learning through direct experience and hands-on activities.
- Intercultural learning — intercultural night and mixed-group work ensured continuous exposure to different perspectives.
- Participatory approach — young people placed at the centre of the learning process.
- Peer learning — group projects facilitated knowledge exchange between participants.
- Creative expression — art, video, and writing as tools for reflection and advocacy.
- External expertise — Fundacja Porta provided local insights on inclusion in Poland.

12 Lessons learned

What worked well

- The 5-day format enabled genuine, deep connections.
- Structured workshops + informal moments (intercultural night) created balance.
- Fundacja Porta added local relevance and depth.
- Co-creation of community projects channelled learning into action.

Recommendations

- Include more visual/non-verbal facilitation for varying English levels.
- Establish a shared online workspace before/after the exchange.
- Plan a follow-up session (online) 4–6 weeks after.

13 Conclusion

The cultural exchange in Warsaw successfully achieved its objectives. Over five days, 30 young people from Poland, Spain, and France lived, learned, and created together, co-designing community projects for social inclusion. This exchange is a key milestone in the "Cultural Bridges" project, laying groundwork for the awareness campaigns and the intercultural youth forum in Spain.
